You can help save a life!

Zach Thompson, is a 34 year old, loving husband and devoted cat dad. He was diagnosed with Cutaneous T-Cell Lymphoma in 2022. He and his wife with their 3 dogs and 3 cats have packed up everything and moved from Rome to Houston, TX in a camper.

This disease has taken Zach out of work and away from all of his favorite activities like CrossFit, hunting, kayaking, hiking and anything that could get him outdoors.

Zach is undergoing treatment, but will ultimately need a stem cell transplant as this is the only cure for his Lymphoma. Zach will have to rely on a total stranger to be his stem cell donor and his second chance at life. We are asking for anyone that's able to come out and participate in a donor drive where 6 minutes of your time and a simple cheek swab could save someone's life. We are specifically hoping to find a donor for Zach, but we are also hoping to help one of the 17,000 people currently waiting for a match. Thank you for considering to be a stem cell donor!
